Program Policy Of SBC To Come Under Review

NASHVILLE (BP)—On motion of the Southern Baptist Convention's first vice-president, the Convention's Executive Committee will study a proposal to give members of the Committee on Order of Business staggered terms of office.

W. Douglas Hudgins, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Jackson, Miss., and a member of the Executive Committee, made the motion. He said there would "probably be great wisdom in having terms of office of members of the Committee on Order of Business extend more than just one year."

The Committee on Order of Business must draft the program followed by the Convention during its annual session each spring. As now provided for the membership of the committee is completely changed each year.

Hudgins said that a continuing committee would "offer something in the way of experience."

He proposed that the Committee on Order of Business have nine members, with three members rotating off the committee annually.

His proposal will be studied between now and the next semi-annual meeting of the Executive Committee here in December.

Afternoon Meets Studied

A motion by Herschel H. Hobbs, pastor of First Baptist Church, Oklahoma City, carried to study also establishing a permanent policy on the Convention's having morning, afternoon, and evening sessions when it meets each year.

There were no afternoon sessions during the 1957 Convention at Chicago because of the distance between downtown hotels and the Convention's meeting hall.

Graham Critics Continue Tirade Against Him

NEW YORK CITY — If Billy Graham collapses under the load of the biggest evangelistic meeting ever attempted, the cause can be attributed to his friends rather than his enemies.

Graham, however, would be the last to admit such a truth. A few individuals and groups continue to bang away with criticism at every opportunity, but Graham has ignored the taunts and let the Crusade speak for itself — over a half million attendance and 16,000 signed decisions in four weeks at Madison Square Garden.

When he does bother to answer a critic, it follows the pattern of the time in London when he was being taken apart in searing phrases by a British newspaperman. In a note to the writer, Graham said, "Of course, I can't agree with the things you are writing, but you certainly say them cleverly." The writer later became a good friend.

House Asks Nation Observe 125th Year Of "America"

WASHINGTON, D. C. (RNS)—The House unanimously approved a concurrent resolution calling upon the nation to commemorate the 125th anniversary of the first singing of the hymn "America" by a group of Boston Sunday school children.

It asks all citizens to give "appropriate recognition" to the anniversary by observing the week of June 30 through July 6, at "125th Anniversary of 'America' Week."

Hester Named Head Trustees

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — (BP) — Trustees of Southern Baptists' sixth seminary-to-be have voted to name the new institution Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Meeting in Kansas City shortly after the 1957 Southern Baptist Convention voted to locate the seminary here, they elected H. I. Hester of nearby Liberty, Mo., as president of the trustees.

Hester is vice-president of William Jewell College, supported by Missouri Baptists.

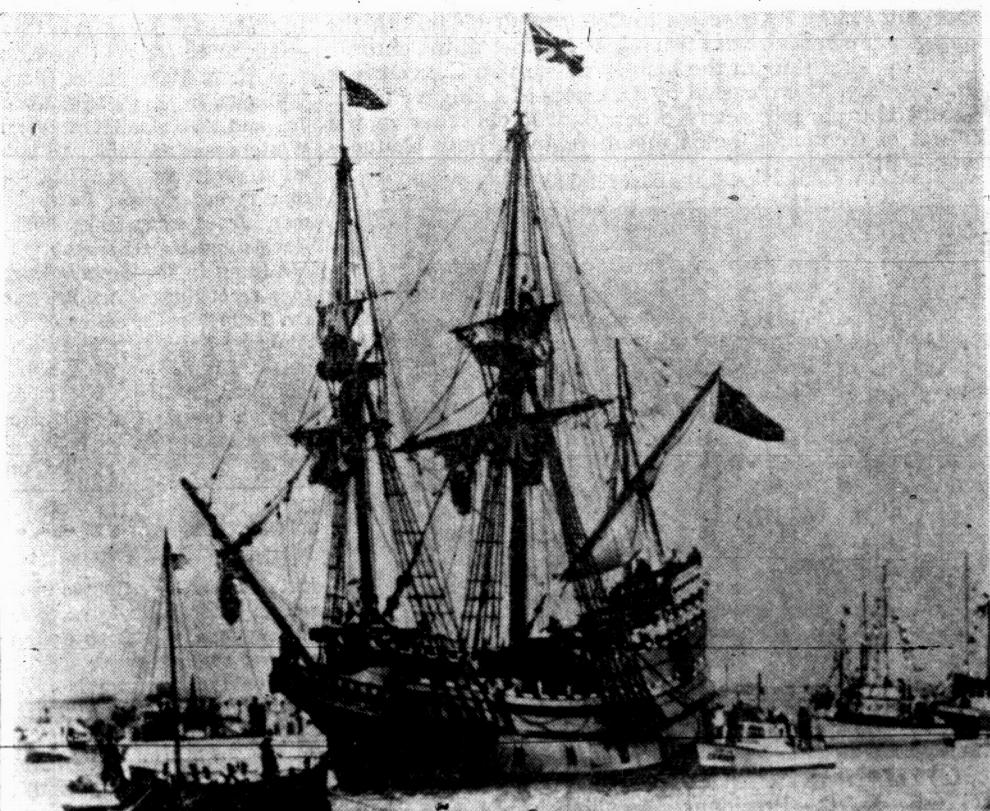

Robert Humphreys, Owingsboro, Ky., minister is chairman of a committee to nominate a president of the new seminary. Due to previous financial commitments of the Convention, it will be at least two years before the seminary construction can start.

The Southern Baptist Convention voted to appropriate $2 million for construction in a five-year period starting in 1959. No funds have yet been designated for operating expenses.

Midwestern Seminary will be limited to courses in theology.

Conrad Wilford, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, Kansas City, is chairman of the executive committee of Midwestern's trustees. Serving with him on the executive committee are Earl Harding, executive secretary, Missouri Baptist General Association; Malcolm B. Knight, Jacksonville, Fla., minister; Clayborn Deering, Oklahoma City minister, and W. Barry Garrett, editor of the Arizona Baptist Beacon.

PILGRIMS' REACH PLYMOUTH IN MAYFLOWER II—PLYMOUTH, Mass.—The Mayflower II, replica of the original ship which brought the Pilgrims to America in 1620, is hatched to a mooring in Plymouth Bay here after being escorted from Provincetown. The 180-ton wooden vessel crossed the Atlantic from England in 53 days, beating the Pilgrims' time by 14 days. When Capt. Alan Villiers, skipper of the square-rigger, and his crew of 32 reached shore all wore the traditional dress of the Pilgrim—knee breeches, buckle shoes and peaked hats. Religious services were held at the colony's namesake of Plymouth Rock monument which marks the site where the first colonists landed 337 years ago. After being displayed in New York City for the summer, the replica will be presented to the people of America as a good-will gift from the people of England. The crossing was made in connection with the 350th anniversary of the founding of Jamestown, first successful English colony in the New World. (RNS Photo).

1830 Decisions Recorded In Taiwan Evangelistic Crusade

In the midst of an evangelistic service in Taiwan (Formosa) a 14-year-old girl got up and started out. When asked why she was leaving before the preacher had finished, she replied, "I'm going to get my sister. I want her to hear, too."

This is an example of the compelling force of the recent two weeks' evangelistic crusade on Taiwan in which 1,830 made decisions for Christ, although the attendance was hindered by the worst flu epidemic on the island in many years and by torrential rains.

Dr. Leonard Sanderson, secretary of evangelism of the Home Mission Board, who assisted with the campaign, said that on the first night he preached more people responded to the invitation than at any other single service in his preaching experience.

The preacher during the service which the young girl attended was Dr. Vernon P. Riske.

Porter Routh Going To Zurich Meeting

NASHVILLE — (BP) — The Southern Baptist Executive Committee has voted to send its executive secretary, Porter Routh of Nashville, to Zurich, Switzerland next summer. Routh will attend a meeting of the executive committee of the Baptist World Alliance.

here recently. The trustees, first group elected after control of the school shifted to the Southern Baptist Convention proper, said they would accept Miss Lansdell's resignation "effective when and if a suitable person can be secured to fill this position."

Miss Lansdell has been president of Carver School since 1951. She will continue as president while the trustees seek a successor.

Until last month the school was operated by the Woman's Missionary Union auxiliary of the Southern Baptist Convention. Kelso, professor of Biblical Archaeology and Semitic at Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary here, left the Holy Land to resume his search for Jeroboam's temple in ancient Bethel. He is shown here with a miniature model of Bethel where he hopes to find the temple. Bethel was the chief sanctuary of the Northern Kingdom of Israel (Israel) following the secession of ten tribes under Jeroboam I, the rebel leader. Jeroboam built the temple at a rival place of worship to Solomon's temple in Jerusalem for the breakaway 10-tribe nation. This is the seventh time Dr. Kelso has gone to the Holy Land to hunt for objects throwing light on Biblical times.—(RNS Photo).

LAYMAN GETS 'HANDICAPPED' AWARD—WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Eisenhower presents Hugo Deffner of St. Luke's Methodist church, Oklahoma City, with the annual President's trophy and plaque as the "Handicapped Man of the Year." Mr. Deffner, crippled by polio, was honored for his one-man campaign to have architects design churches and public buildings with street-level entrances for the physically handicapped. The 55-year old layman, an insurance agent, received the award at a meeting here of the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped. St. Luke's church of which Mr. Deffner is an active member, constructed a street-level entrance in response to his suggestion. The President's Committee said his campaign has had an influence on the design of public buildings in Oklahoma and "is spreading to other states."—(RNS Photo).

ardson, pastor of University Baptist Church, Baltimore, Md.; and another Southern Baptist leader from the States who took part in the revivals was Dr. Searcy S. Garrison, executive secretary of the Georgia Baptist Convention. These three men were joined in Taiwan by a number of Southern Baptist missionaries from other areas of the Orient and by a national Baptist preacher from Hong Kong.

1,150 Accept Christ

Beginning May 5 meetings were held for a week in 10 churches and congregations in the northern part of the island, where in Taipei alone one-seventh of the population was sick with flu. Yet, 1,150 people accepted Christ that week.

Rains hit the island during the second week when the meetings were held in seven churches in the southern and central part and in a school auditorium in Taipei, but 680 people made professions of faith.

Although the scheduled campaign closed on May 19, meetings continued in the church in Taichung through the following Wednesday; and final results from that meeting have not been reported.

20 Preaching Bands

In connection with the revivals 20 preaching bands are conducting services in 20 chapels during the first two weeks in June, with the hope that the total decisions for both campaigns will exceed 2,500. And a united conservation drive has been planned for the following few weeks in an effort to get the people making decisions lined up with the Baptist churches of Taiwan.

Preparation for the campaign was made by committees from the Taiwan Baptist Convention and the Taiwan Baptist Mission (organization of Southern Baptist missionaries). During the two weeks personal work was done by students of the Taiwan Baptist Theological Seminary and by church members.

"THIS IS YOUR LIFE" PROGRAM SURPRISES JOHN E. BARNES, JR.

A This Is Your Life program at the Training Union hour Sunday, June 16, surprised Dr. John E. Barnes, Jr., on his 13th Anniversary as pastor of the Main Street Church, Hattiesburg. The entire day was celebrated as "Barnes Day."

Persons relating the story of Dr. Barnes' life included his sister, Miss Harriet Barnes of the faculty of MSCW at Columbus, and Rev. Eugene Stockstill, pastor of Calvary Church, Hattiesburg. Mr. Stockstill told of his trip to Europe with Dr. Barnes in 1955.

Harold Blakeney acted as master of ceremonies, and others taking part on the program were Mrs. Barnes and her mother, Mrs. J. A. Stallworth, Frank D. Montague, Dr. R. G. Lowrey, G. W. Causey, Mrs. James Chancellor, T. E. (Jerry) Geiger, Jr., Mrs. H. R. McPhail, Dr. Claude Williams, Jr., Hugh McWilliams, Jr., and A. Dan Bates. Donald Winters was organist, and operating projectors, spotlight and tape recorders were Louie Farmer, Jr., Lamar Lifer, Buddy Revels and Karl Langenbach.

Adding to the program were tape recordings of the voices of Dr. Leon Macon, editor of The Alabama Baptist, a close friend of Dr. Barnes, and the Barnes daughter, Marilyn, who is serving on the staff at Ridgecrest Baptist Assembly.

Gifts presented as the program neared the close were a stack of extra copies of the 13th Anniversary church bulletins, a volume of letters of appreciation from friends and associates, a tape recording of the evening's program, an ottoman for the pastor's study, a government bond, and an oil painting of Dr. Barnes to be placed in the church parlor. Hugh McWilliams, Jr., who presented the portrait, recognized the artist, Miss Lucile Parker.

Mr. Blakeney presented thirteen red roses to Mrs. Barnes.

A reception honoring Dr. and Mrs. Barnes in Fellowship Hall immediately following the evening preaching service was well attended.

Committees who made the Barnes Day arrangements were Gift Committee: Dr. Claude Williams, Jr., Mrs. R. L. Touchstone and Mrs. Hugh McWilliams, Jr.; general reception committee: Mrs. James Chancellor and Mrs. Levert Batson, co-chairmen; decorations: Mrs. Luther Davis and Mrs. G. W. Cauley; refreshments: Mrs. Charles Askew; promotion: Becky Ann Myers, Winnie Byrd and A. Dan Bates; program: Harold Blakeney, Mrs. James Chancellor, T. E. (Jerry) Geiger, Jr., and Mrs. H. R. McPhail.

Frank D. Montague was general chairman of all Barnes Day activities.

just does not have time to transact its business in three morning sessions and three or four evening sessions when a major part of the program is given over to inspirational services."

C. Vaughn Rock, pastor of First Southern Baptist Church, Phoenix, Ariz. moved—and it was carried—that the Executive Committee also determine what the Convention can do to make a spiritual impact and contribution to the cities in which it meets.

The proposals of Hobbs and Vaughan will be under study between now and December, too, when a report will be made.

New trustees were chosen when the transfer took place, but half of them are nominated by the WMU.

Adopted Resolutions

The trustees adopted resolutions of appreciation for the work of Miss Lansdell as president of the school and elected John Sandidge, Louisville attorney, their chairman.

Miss Lansdell is a former foreign missionary educator, with three years as teacher in the University of Shanghai, China.

"Dr. Lansdell," the trustees said in their resolution, "has given to Carver School of Missions and Social Work the full measure of her love and constructive ability, untiringly, generously. She has dreamed great dreams; she has thought great thoughts for us and now . . . we determine . . . to strive to attain that ideal which she has in her heart for Carver School of Missions and Social Work."

Takes Other Action

Other officers of the trustees are Garrett, first vice-president; Knight, second vice-president; W. Ross Edwards, Kansas City pastor, recording secretary, and Joe Hurst, Kansas City, treasurer.

Other action of the Midwestern trustees:

1. Paved the way for incorporating the seminary under the laws of Missouri with the officers having authority to sign the necessary documents.

2. Instructed the executive committee of the trustees to study set of proposed articles of faith (or statement of principles) to guide the new seminary, and to recommend them to the full board later on.

While meeting in Kansas City, the trustees visited and surveyed the proposed site for the seminary. Owners of 32 acres of land with 15 minutes travel time of downtown Kansas City have agreed to sell for seminary use.

Graham Critics

Many have been closely associated with the evangelist in Crusades and want to discuss various matters with him privately. Others want appointments to talk about future meetings. And some just want to talk. They include governors, industrial tycoons, oil millionaires, film stars, neighbors and ministers of every denomination.

Busy Schedule

With his built in southern hospitality, Billy Graham would have it no other way. He loves to greet old friends and meet new ones, but it would take a 48 hour day for him to do it and still keep up with all the demands of the New York Crusade. For instance, last weekend he was on three nationwide television programs. Such things take careful planning, but after a steady round of appointments Graham had only a few minutes to spare for each.

Members of the team endeavor to protect the evangelist, in order to give him time for vital study and prayer, but the task borders on the impossible at times. Graham is so afraid of hurting someone's feelings that he doesn't often cooperate with the efforts of his aides. He has expressed the belief many times that "God has called me for a short ministry."

He could be right.

Short Story

Norman Vincent Peale, noted minister and author, took part in one of the services a few nights ago at Madison Square Garden.

He listened intently while Graham delivered a simple message and looked closely at the faces of people who had been drawn from their seats during the invitation to surrender their lives to Christ.

After visiting the counseling room, where he saw the people being grounded in Scripture verses for the beginning of their new life, Peale warmly congratulated Graham on the power of his presentation and remarked: "I don't see how you do it every night, Billy."

Graham smiled and reported by replied, "It's just a lot of positive thinking, Norman."

117 Decisions

At First, Union

On Sunday, June 16, one of the best revivals First Church, Union, has ever experienced came to a close with 117 decisions registered—53 by profession of faith, eight by letter, four for Special Christian Service and 52 rededications, along with 50 young people registering their desire to let their life count for Christ.

John Edmund Haggai of Owensboro, Kentucky was the evangelist. Eddie Nicholson of Lubbock, Texas was the evangelist singer, and Albin Whitworth of Louisville, Kentucky was the organist.

Rev. C. O. Lindsey is pastor.

Called To New Places of Service

Recently three pastors in Jackson County Association have been called to other fields of service.

Rev. R. V. Walker, Sr., pastor at Hurley, answered the call to a church in Alabama; Rev. Calvin H. Garner, pastor at Eastlawn, and Rev. J. P. Kirkland, Jr., pastor at First Church, Kreole, were called back into the armed forces as chaplains.

Hugh Cook, Associational Clerk, on the authority of the Executive Committee of the Jackson County Association, has written to the Baptist Record a letter of endorsement of these pastors who "served faithfully and well while in Jackson Association."

THE WHOLE INCREDIBLE STORY OF THE JUNGLE MISSIONARY MARTYRS

The saga of the five young missionary martyrs who, in their small plane, were the first in centuries to penetrate the dread land of the Ama Indians with the Christian Gospel—only to be ambushed and slain with savage lances. Yet transcending the tragedy of this amazing Christian adventure—now known the world over as "Operation Ama"—was the fuel's unquenchable faith.

The author, widow of one of the martyred five, is one of the wives who lived in the jungle as active partners in the faithful expedition.

"Under Mrs. Elliott's guidance we pass through 'gates of splendor' into a spiritual experience that is beyond time and place."

Daley To Edit Western Recorder

Our Baptist friends in Kentucky are fortunate in having secured Chauncey R. Daley as editor of their state journal, the Western Recorder.

Dr. Daley begins his work next week. He is an able successor to men who have led the paper through 132 years of distinction in journalism. He follows Dr. A. T. Skinner, who is retiring.

The new editor brings to his post a wealth of experience in Baptist life. A native of Screven County, Georgia, he was educated at Mercer University and the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. He was a faculty member at Georgetown College, Georgetown, Kentucky from 1949 to 1954 and dean of men for the last three years of that time. Since 1954 he has been pastor of the First Church, Harrodsburg, Kentucky.

Being sound in doctrine, well-grounded in the faith, a man of scholarship and discernment, a good writer "having the common touch," and tough enough to hold his own in a territory where feuding is a hobby, we confidently predict that Editor Daley will come through with flying colors.

Protestant-Catholic Opinions

Some trends have been identified in U. S. life by recent surveys of the Gallup Poll.

On the matter, "Should churches speak out on political and social questions?" the answers from Protestants are: Yes—48%, No—43%, No Opinion—9%. Catholic replies are: Yes—50%, No—44%, No Opinion—6%.

On the question of church-going on a typical, average Sunday, the attendance percentages reported are: Protestants 44, Catholics 76; men 43, women 57. Thirty-nine per cent of the individuals polled say that they never go to church, over half of them explaining that they stopped going between the ages of 10 and 20 years.

While millions of people are now affiliated with the churches of this land we cannot overlook the fact that we have barely begun in enlisting them in the vital struggles of the Kingdom.

Clergymen Drinking Liquor

At a gathering up in North Conway, New Hampshire last week a large assortment of ministers debated the question, "Should A Clergyman Drink Socially?"

A Newark, New Jersey pastor took the affirmative side of the discussion, namely, that it is right and proper for a man of the cloth to drink alcoholic beverages socially under certain circumstances.

A Philadelphia minister spoke for the negative side of the issue, defending the idea that it is better for an ordained minister to abstain from the social use of alcohol.

However academic this program might have been the very fact of such a debate being staged will shock many good people. In most denominations a drinking minister would be unfrocked in a hurry. Sadly, even in "the Bible Belt" there are some groups that condone social drinking among their clergymen.

The editor of the Washington Religious Review, commenting on the unusual debate of the brethren up East said, "We have seen representatives of all the three faiths 'under the influence,' at one time or another. But never a Methodist or a Baptist minister, to our knowledge."

The Amazing Mr. Baring-Gould

The busiest person of our day appears to be a droopy slacker beside the prolific activity of a 19th Century curate named Sabine Baring-Gould.

The unusual clergyman of the Anglican Church is remembered mostly for writing "Onward Christian Soldiers." He said concerning the now famous hymn, "I set to work and knocked off the hymn in about ten minutes."

A new book being published in England tells the story of this man's productive life. It is entitled, "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Baring-Gould wrote more than 130 books. His sermons alone fill more than 20 volumes. He wrote a 16-volume "Lives of the Saints." Time magazine reports that his weighty treatise on the "Origin and Development of Religious Belief" moved Prime Minister Gladstone to award him a state pension.

As if this were not enough for one lifetime of writing, he also turned out 30 novels plus other stories and character sketches. He was an active archaeologist and author of many songs.

The amazing story of this minister of a hundred years ago rises now to the surface to challenge every preacher of our time to be more productive.

The Right Kind of Ancestors

He says, "It's not what your ancestors were, but what kind of ancestors we will be—that counts!"

18TH CENTURY BAPTIST PRESS

IMPRISONED BAPTIST PREACHERS MAKE PULPIT OF A JAIL WINDOW

Pages From The Past

By J. L. BOYD

50 Years Ago

The West Point Baptist Church closed a great revival with 61 accessions in which Pastor W. T. Hudson was assisted by Rev. W. D. Nowlin of Owensboro, Ky.

The First Baptist Church and city of Vicksburg experienced a glorious revival led by Evangelist Luther Little of Texas a preacher and Singer Clifton Powers of New York City as soloist and choir director. Pastor Howard L. Weeks and the First Church people gleaned 45 into their membership out of the "fully one hundred and fifty conversions."

Pastor J. P. Harrington of the Calvary Baptist Church, (now Bowmen Avenue) also led his church in a revival at the same time and shared in the fruits of the simultaneous evangelistic effort, but no records are available.)

40 Years Ago

The Church at Ripley enjoyed a very successful meeting of days resulting in twenty-nine additions. Pastor G. S. Jenkins was assisted by Evangelist T. O. Reeve of the Home Mission Board evangelistic corps.

Pastor R. R. Jones tells of how his Fernwood Baptist Church took advantage of him while he was away at New Orleans attending the Southern Baptist Convention.

First, it took a very firm stand against having polygamous members in the churches, and it endorsed the literature as put out by the Nigerian Convention Departments of Sunday School and Training Union. The convention is assuming more and more the support of Seminary, schools and hospitals; and has undertaken as a special task the partial support of the Kersey Children's Home for motherless children. Yet it should do more in a financial way.

We feel the need of strong emphasis on stewardship and many of our African brethren are preaching, "Freely ye have received, freely give."

Thomas and Katherine High, Nigerian Baptist Theological Seminary, Ogbomoso, Nigeria, West Africa.

Forgiveness

At the death of Brother W. L. Cooper recently I was reminded anew of something I heard him say at Calvary Church, Yazoo City.

"I don't know if I have an enemy. But should you harm me, I hereby offer you forgiveness in advance."

Think of that! I would like to live daily in the spirit of "forgiveness in advance!"

Ruby Smith Linskey, Parchman,

25 Years Ago

The Lyon Church experienced a "gracious meeting" of days in which Pastor H. L. Carter was assisted by Rev. J. W. Mayfield of McComb as preacher and Singer L. B. Cobb of Eudora as song leader.

Results: Thirteen additions, six of them for baptism.

CHESTERFIELD, Va., February 1771 (BP) — Two Baptist evangelists imprisoned because they refused to quit preaching the Baptist gospel have turned their prison sentence into a revival meeting. As they preach through the iron bars of their cell in Chesterfield County jail, many hearers are being converted.

The preachers, William Webber and Joseph Anthony were arrested in December and charged with disorderly conduct. Their offense was preaching without the authority of the state church of Virginia in Baptist meetings which were attracting too much favorable attention.

Tried in January, Webber and Anthony were ordered to post bond that they would not preach again in the county. They told the court that they could not comply in good conscience and would go to prison first. The court hoped to silence the Baptists by confining them to jail, but the sentence has only heightened the fervor of the evangelists and made their message more compelling.

Webber and Anthony no longer can go to their congregations; now their congregations come to them. The Baptists preach twice a week to the throngs gathered outside the jail.

Their cell window has become a pulpit. Placing their Bible and hymn book on the window sill, the prisoners preach with tremendous effect. The grating before them confines the preachers to their cell, but their voices, ringing with zeal and conviction, carry easily to those on the outside.

The Baptist cause scarcely flickered in Chesterfield County prior to the arrest of the evangelists. But today, fanned by messages of courage and faith from within a prison cell, the flame of religious freedom is beginning to burn brightly.

Authorities are expected to end their abortive attempt to silence the evangelists by setting them free.

Webber and Anthony came here from Goochland County where Baptists are gaining strength. The preachers were invited to conduct meetings here by residents of the county, but they discovered on their arrival that the authorities permit only ministers of the established church to preach.

EDINBURG, Scotland (RNS) Sir George Fielden MacLeod, newly inducted moderator of the Church of Scotland, said here that the Christian Church's "silence, connivance and collusion" on the nuclear weapons issue is threatening the future of Christianity in the East.

Baptized More Than Once

QUESTION: I joined another church (not Baptist) when I was a child but was not taught about salvation. Then later a Baptist preacher talked to me and I joined the Baptist Church by immersion, even though I had been immersed before. Later I was genuinely saved and baptized again. Even yet I have doubts at time and feel like joining all over. What's wrong with me? Is it wrong to be baptized more than once?

ANSWER: If you are like most people there are a lot of things wrong with you. But this is nothing to be ashamed of. We all have something wrong with us.

I suspect that you are a chronic worrier, a perfectionistic, exacting sort of person who never feels comfortable with God or man. To overcome this I would focus my attention on the great, unconditional promises of God concerning salvation. Second, I would realize that my feelings are untrustworthy, tricky, and cannot be depended upon to tell me whether or not I am saved.

Third, remember that faith and doubt sit side by side in every human heart — we do not trust perfectly just as we do not love perfectly. Fourth, I would courageously work for Christ and witness for Him in spite of my doubt. You seem to have done all you can. Enjoy your religion.

Of course, it is no sin to be baptized twice. The truth is, you are not baptized in the New Testament sense unless it followed a true conversion to Christ. Read Acts 19: 1-5. There we find some people who were immersed more than once.

LIBERTY BELL—The Liberty Bell at Independence Hall, Philadelphia, was first cast in 1776 to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the Commonwealth. It was twice recast because of brittleness and hung in the steeple of Independence Hall in 1773. The bell cracked in 1836 when it was tolled at the funeral procession of Chief Justice John Marshall of the U. S. Supreme Court. An inscription on it reads: "Proclaim Liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof." —(RNS Photo).

NASHVILLE — (BP) — Development of a map showing Southern Baptist Convention historical sites and discussion of the forthcoming Encyclopedia of Southern Baptist will be matters on the agenda of Baptist historians gathering here July 16-18.

The occasion is the annual meeting of the Southern Baptist Historical Commission and its affiliated organization, the Southern Baptist Historical Society.

Also on the agenda of the groups are elections of their new officers.

Norman W. Cox, Nashville, executive secretary of the Historical Commission, reported that Baptists, in a number of states are developing maps of Baptist points of interest. These, he said, will ultimately be combined "into one large map."

The maps will be used by Southern Baptists taking historical tours and pilgrimages, he said. A tour last year of sites of Oklahoma Baptist history attracted 300 persons and lasted two days, according to Cox.

The Encyclopedia of Southern Baptists is now in process of publication and should be ready for sale in January. Pre-publication orders were received during the recent Southern Baptist Convention session at Chicago.

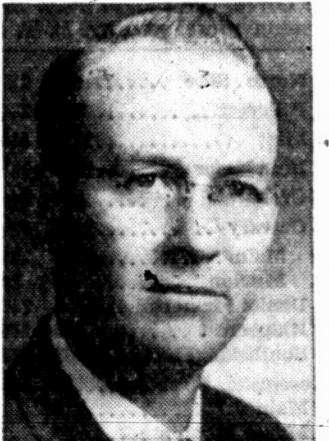

Broadman In Charge
Broadman Press, publishing wing of the Baptist Sunday School Board, is in charge of publication. Cox directed a large group of writers and editors in gathering and preparing monographs and illustrations.

A discussion during the Historical Commission meeting will be led by those who have been responsible for production and publication of the encyclopedia.

There will be two other panel discussions, one on the "logical development of the evangelical reformation" and the other on John Leland, 19th century Baptist minister who helped lead the movement for religious liberty in America.

Richard N. Owen, Nashville, editor of the Baptist and Reflector, Tennessee Baptist weekly newspaper, is chairman of the Historical Commission. Bailey F. Davis, pastor, First Baptist Church, Franklin, Ky., is president of the Southern Baptist Historical Society.

CAMP GARAYWA

GA'S TAKE NOTE!

The camp for 9 and 10 year old girls (July 29-August 3) is very popular and is filled (223).

We feel that we need to open another week for 9 and 10 year olds. Since most of the 11 and 12 year old girls are registered in two of the three periods set aside for them we are adjusting the schedule as follows:

JULY 22-27 is now for 9 and 10 year olds, instead of a Tween Teen Camp.

YWA CONFERENCE SPEAKER AT GARAYWA

to share it with all the folk:

Dear Miss Robinson:

"All's well that ends well" could be aptly applied to the sending us the hospital supplies. When the Israelis left in March and the supplies had not arrived we wondered how they would ever get here. However, the UNRWA had many of their own things in Haifa, so we thought the boxes would be coming soon. For weeks now I've been checking with UNRWA about them. Three days ago a friend of ours who works at UNRWA mentioned some new surgical supplies they had just received. As he mentioned this and that, it sounded more and more familiar. To make a long story short, there had been a mix-up in the consignment, and everything had been turned over to the Field Welfare Officer in UNRWA. Some distribution had been made to UNRWA stores, but none had been distributed to individuals. And so this morning the last of the lot arrived at our hospital.

135 Bed spreads
209 Blankets
1,004 Sheets
1,755 Towels
1,743 Pillow Cases
62 Pads

To the above items were added many other articles purchased at the request of the hospital, such as gauze, stockinette, surgical instruments, medical books etc. — more than a thousand dollars was spent for this.

—PROVINCETOWN, Mass.—Dressed as a Pilgrim, Capt. Alan Villiers, skipper of the Mayflower II, signs a copy of the Mayflower Compact on board the vessel after guiding it across the Atlantic from England. Looking on is 82-year old Harry Kemp, Provincetown poet; and Warwick Charlton. The 180-ton wooden square rigger was built as a replica of the original Mayflower which brought the Pilgrims to America in 1620. It anchored here with a new crew of 32 after a 53-day crossing. The next day the replica was escorted to Plymouth where she was greeted by more than 25,000 persons. Religious services were held at the colonnaded shelter of Plymouth Rock monument which marks the site where the first Pilgrims landed 337 years ago. The Mayflower Compact was a series of government articles signed by the Pilgrim Fathers on their vessel before they landed on American soil.—(RNS Photo).

Sunday School Lesson

By DR. L. BRACEY CAMPBELL

JOSEPH, MAN OF MERCY.
Bible Text: Genesis 41:53

INTRODUCTION. It will not be considered of you too much that I should ask you to read this wonderful story again, would it? For I want you to read it with a minor, yet important object in mind and that is the fact expressed in the ancient pronouncement of Numbers 32:23. "Be sure your sin will find you out." And I earnestly call your attention to the fact that the words are, "Be sure your sin will be found out, but, 'Be sure your sin will find you out.'

Many a sin, many a crime has not been found out, but no sin has been committed which has not found the sinner out. Joseph's brothers completely deceived their father as to Joseph's fate at their hands, and the father mourned Joseph as dead, but the brothers were never deceived or uncertain, and it was this very certainty with the knowledge that they had done a great wickedness in the sale of their brother into slavery that many a night robbed them of sleep and made them uneasy in their father's presence.

When they first suggested that they go down into Egypt for food, he remarked that his sons glanced at each other and wanted to know why. The brothers were plagued by the sin that would not be forgotten, but hounded them, trailing them by day and night and refusing to leave them alone.

Their sin found them out, and that, any man's sin will do. Sin will not let the sinner have peaceful sleep; but will drive it from his pillow. Thus consciousness of our sins, "Doth make cowards of us all."

I. EVIL INTENTION INTO GOOD RESULT. Evil intention upon the part of the devil changed by the overwhelming power of God into the accomplishment of His gracious purpose. Satan was active in the crucifixion, but the crucifixion accomplished the Eternal purpose of redemtion.

Satan was active in the plagues from which Job suffered; but his God saw that Job was refined by every one of them. Satan, the devil, the evil, claimed the right to sift the disciples as wheat" (Let due note be taken that all of them were to be sifted), "but I have prayed" made intercession "for thee" (you, Peter), "and when you have repented" (turned) "be a strength to your brethren." Evil troubled, but the Lord brought peace out of the trouble.

It is not difficult to read this lesson from the life of Joseph. He was in a bad way while he was his father's spoiled brat, chock-full of selfish pride and egoistic sense of superiority to brothers not only but parents as well, cast then into the pit from which he could not hope to climb out, lifted up through no wish of his own and sold into slavery, carried away into a strange land, sold and subsequently cast into prison on a charge that well might have led his master to kill him and go uncriticized by anybody who became acquainted with the charge. Down in the depths now and all by the workings of evil in himself and others.

Now enter God, who all the while has been shaping the events out of which He would make a man after His own heart, to a great work in his own preparation for service and then to have him render a service to the whole world. Out of prison and into the palace of the most powerful monarch in the world, out of the depths of ruin and poverty onto the heights of prosperity and power.

II. WHERE GREATNESS APPEARS. Among other places, that is where those who sit in high places temper justice with mercy and forgive those who may have wronged them in the years gone on before. Joseph's poor pitiable brothers could not conceive of his forgiving them the evil they had done him in spite of the fact that he told them that what they had done had been ordained of God for the prevention of their starvation and the blotting out of the family history in bringing its progress to an end.

Here was in Joseph a great man who could forgive those who had spitefully used him when they sent out and bury him finally in the land of promise.

Church Bowlers Barred From Alleys

TOLDO, Ohio — Bowling alleys have turned down the patronage of the Presbyterian Men and Women's Leagues and the Lutheran Women's League.

A pastor observed that all bowling alleys in Toledo sell beer and some dispense hard liquors, and he charged that the church groups' entries had been refused because they don't do enough business at the bars.

Protestant Pastor Sentenced to Death

VIENNA (RNS) — The Budapest Radio reported that Lajos Gulyas, a Reformed Church pastor from the village of Level, was among six "counter-revolutionaries" sentenced to death at Gyoer, western Hungary, on charges of attempting to overthrow the "people's government" during last fall's abortive revolt.

CLERGY SHORTAGE IN EAST GERMANY

BERLIN — An official of the Evangelical Church said the clergy shortage in East Germany is now critical.

There are already 200 vacant pastorate in the Soviet-controlled area, and the government will not grant residence permits to young West German pastors who are willing to go East and fill these vacancies.

Many East German pastors have fled to the West due to ill health.

and cruelly treated him, because God had touched his spirit.

III. MAN OF FAITH. That was he. His faith in God's mercy had steadied him in all the days of his misfortune. He saw the star of hope gleam in the darkest night of his despair. It was this unfailing faith that kept Joseph hopeful in the most dolorous days of his life. He had that faith in the days of his prosperity, and it did not desert him in his contemplation of the future.

He believed the prophecy that God would one day lead His people to the land He had promised them. In this hope Joseph left his people a great reminder of great tradition, that they should bear his bones when they sent out and bury him finally in the land of promise.

He is Jim Sapp, Associate in the Brotherhood Commission, Memphis, Tennessee. Jim will lead a conference on Saturday morning for presidents, pastors, program vice-presidents, and choristers.

The program for this year is filled with bits of information coming periodically throughout the three days—special music featuring men's quartets, information on Relief and Annuity Board, visual presentations, and a variety of other informative and interesting matters. Time is running short! Get your reservation in today!!

SPOC CAMPAIGN

By this time you have in hand and maybe before your Brotherhood information about our

Send President to Oklahoma City Campaign! Some additional facts which may help you in promoting SPOC in your church are: THIS WILL BE A HISTORIC MEETING—the first such gathering of men ever to be held in the history of the Southern Baptist Convention; IT WILL BE A DENOMINATIONAL CENTERED MEETING—every aspect of the program will point to the contributions that Baptists have made and are making to the world; IT WILL BE A FELLOWSHIP MEETING—Bringing together 8,000 - 10,000 men from every section of the Southern Baptist Convention for Christian fellowship; IT WILL BE A WORKING MEETING—the men will make individual contributions through seminars which will cover the vocational and professional fields; IT WILL BE A CHALLENGING MEETING—one which will cause each man to realize that in unity there is strength and by seeing his fellow Baptists gathered from all over the convention, he will be encouraged and challenged to return to his church and be a better follower of Christ.

So pastors immediately follow through with this suggestion and see that it is presented to the members of your Brotherhood in the MOST challenging way possible. (If you find it impossible for your president to attend, but you would like to send someone, choose another "key" person and send him.) The benefits will be repaid one hundred fold what it cost in dollars and cents.

Looking forward to hearing from you.

New Seminary Seeks Way To Open In 1958

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—(BP)—Midwestern Baptist Seminary, looking forward to possible opening in the fall of 1958, asked the Southern Baptist Executive Committee to consider ways and means of financing the school if it could open then.

The Executive Committee, in session in Nashville, turned the matter over to Executive Secretary Porter Routh and to Kendall Berry, Blytheville, Ark., layman who is chairman of its finance committee. They will report back to the Executive Committee when it meets again in December.

Previous commitments have been made to the five existing Southern Baptist seminaries through 1958. The Southern Baptist Convention voted $2 million in capital funds (construction money) for the new seminary here when the new, 5-year capital needs budget became effective in 1959.

The Executive Committee also approved the use of up to $10,000 from the Convention's 1957 operating budget to meet the expenses of the seminary trustees. The trustees are presently considering purchase of property on which to build. They also have a nominating committee seeking a president for the new seminary.

Location of the seminary in Kansas City, Mo., was approved by the 1957 session of the Southern Baptist Convention. The new trustees met recently to organize and selected a name for the institution.

Baptist Hospital Drive Gets Help Of Three Faiths

DALLAS, Tex. (RNS) — Protestants, Roman Catholics and Jews paid for a large display ad in Dallas newspapers urging support of a campaign to raise $2,500,000 for expansion of Baylor Hospital, a Baptist institution.

The ad said that "for 53 years Baylor Hospital has given unselfish care to sick and suffering humanity of all faiths and all races, rich and poor alike."

"The Baptist people of this community have cherished and nurtured this institution from its founding," it said. "Through the years they have yielded to none their obligation for its support. Today this magnificent institution of mercy is facing a critical shortage of essential facilities."

Asked what they had done on the previous Sunday, 14 percent of the 2,261 men and women interviewed said they had been to church. Ten per cent had been at work. Twenty-eight per cent said they go to church once a month or more; 18 per cent "now and again"; 32 percent "never"; 11 percent on special family occasions only; 4 percent at Christmas, Easter and on Armistice Day. Seven percent listen to radio and television services only.

Of the 32 percent who never go to church a third said they stopped going before they were 15 and a quarter between the ages of 16 and 20. Nearly 90 percent believe it is a duty to teach children to pray and practically all agree that children should be baptized. Newspaper — We wish to apologize for the manner in which we disgraced the beautiful wedding last week. Through an error of the typesetter we were made to say, "The roses were pink." What we should have said was, "The roses were pink."

The Patterson's cook, whose countenance was nearly always bright, even at breakfast, looked very tired one morning and the man of the house inquired what the matter was.

"I've been buying things on the lay-away plan," she said.

He asked if she didn't mean lay-away plan.

"No" she said, "I mean what I said. You buy things you can't afford and then you lay away worrying how you'll pay for them."

Peptia: "You must be very proud of your husband, Juan. He is a very handsome man."

Lolita: "You should have seen the Juan who got away!"
